Part-time students will register Feb. 1, 2 and 3 also in the Communications Center. Continuing students enrolling on a part-time basis will be given notices of exact dates and hours for priority registration.

PLAY DEFENSE

For your safety during the holiday season, walk defensively. Before leaving the curb, also look for cars that might be making left or right turns or coming around the corner. If you don't, the drivers may not see you until it's too late!

Former Student Directs ECC 'Treasure Island'

After several years absence from the El Camino College Theater, Buddy Younggreen, former drama student, will return to the local spotlight, this time as director of the Burnett Ferguson-Les Thomas production of "Treasure Island."

Younggreen's theatrical career started in 1958, when he attended El Camino as a theater arts major. During that time he appeared in three major productions, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," "The Matchmaker," and

"Please Marry My Nellie." Younggreen was student-director of "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" while playing a leading role.

His activities were not limited to the stage, however. Outside the theater he found time to be a cheerleader and president of Lambda Delta Sigma, a college special interest group.

After graduation from ECC, Younggreen transferred to Brigham Young University

PATIENCE NEEDED

The surface streets and freeways will be more crowded than usual during the holiday season. One of the best things to practice during this busy time is . . . patience. Keep calm, cool and collected when you're behind the wheel.

via a dramatic arts scholarship.

While at BYU, he participated in 12 productions, the most recent and successful being "Once Upon a Matress." His summers were spent working for productions at KSL-TV in Salt Lake City.

Carson Land Zone Changed By Commission

The Regional Planning Commission has recommended approval of a change of zone from M-1-20,000 to R-1 on property located on Carson Street east of the Dominguez Channel.

Kenneth Battram, owner of the property, had petitioned for C-2 and R-A-5,500 zoning. The recommended zoning will permit single-family homes on 5,500 square foot lots.
